“PARTING IS SUCH SWEET SORROW!”

I remember writing my first article for the Tabernacle Good News for the July 1999 issue, (Volume 4, Issue 7), entitled A New Pastor Is Coming to Town. Now I am writing my last article, somehow it seems so strange to think of it that way. As I said a few weeks ago when I announced my resignation, this has not been an easy decision for Karen and I to make. I would like to include my resignation letter in my last article:

Dear Church Family:

It is with great sadness that I tender my resignation as pastor of Tabernacle Baptist Church. This is not an easy decision. Karen and I for the last nineteen years have called Concord home, the longest time that we have lived anywhere in our married lives. Yet, for some time now, I have sensed the Lord dealing with me concerning a change in ministry. While it is never easy to leave a group of people that you love, and we do love you dear folks, God has lifted our burden for Tabernacle. He at the same time is burdening another man to come and be your new pastor. It is now your task to find that man.

This week I have accepted the call of First Baptist Church of Thermopolis, Wyoming to come as co-pastor with Pastor Harvey Seidel. Pastor Seidel would like to retire next year when he reaches twenty-five years of service to First Baptist Church. When that happens, I will become the senior pastor of the church. Karen and I have peace that this is God's will for our lives.

I will work with the deacons and the men of this church to help set-up a pulpit committee to make the transition as smooth as possible during the next two months. We hope to be in Thermopolis by the first of September to assume our new duties. It has been one of the greatest honors of my life to be called “Pastor” by this church family. While Karen and I will no longer have the privilege of being your pastor and pastor's wife, we will always love you and value the time we had together.

Be faithful! Our LORD could return at any moment!

‘til the trump,
T. L. Newhouse, Acts 20:24
Pastor

Be assured of our prayers for you as a church as you seek to call your next pastor. As Paul told the church in Ephesus, “And now, brethren, I commend you to God, and the word of His grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you an inheritance among all them that are sanctified” (Acts 20:32). May of Lord bless you and keep you.

August is a special month for me.....it's my birthday month. I share it with my older sister, there's 3 sisters I'm the baby, KJ (middle girl) is August 7th. I'm the 24th...but I still would get my 'special' birthday meal. I'd usually request my dad's ribs (my mouth waters thinking of them), but my mother is no longer here either to prepare my cake, but I'll make it myself this year, a yummy'better than sex cake'.....give it 'G' rated name 'better than anything cake' . Grab a big 'ol piece and add a bowl of homemade ice cream, sit back, unbutton your pants and enjoy.....don't feel guilty.....remember it's my birthday; it's a celebration!

Better Than Anything Cake

- 1 box Devil's Food Cake
- 1 8-oz tub cool whip
- 1 can sweetened condensed milk
- 1 bottle caramel ice cream topping
- 1 package Heath bar pieces (found in the baking aisle by the chocolate chips (or just do what we would do, smash a Heath Bar with a hammer to make your own chips)

DIRECTIONS:

1. Bake Devil's Food Cake in a 9 x 13 inch pan, according to package directions and let it cool.
2. In a large bowl, combine caramel and sweetened condensed milk.
3. Using the end of a wooden spoon, (I have a hard plastic chopstick I've kept just for making poke cakes) poke holes in the cake every couple of inches. Alternatively, you can use a fork to poke holes.
4. Pour the caramel/sweetened condensed milk over the top of the cake so that it fills all of the holes.
5. Spread Cool Whip over the top of the cake.
6. Sprinkle Heath bar pieces on top.
7. Enjoy! PS: Store leftovers in the refrigerator. (leftovers?)

Rainy Season Is Here!

Get the picture. We're sitting in our living room this week listening to the rain outside. Suddenly water started flowing through the living room from the direction of the kitchen and several dead roaches went floating by. What in the world? We quickly discovered that the street behind the house had flooded, and every time a car drove by, the waves were coming under the back door and into the house carrying with it whatever was previously in the street that was small enough to fit through the fence and under the door. Yes, rainy season is here with a vengeance! Before the storm was over, both the house and the church had water come in from both the front and back doors, but thankfully nothing was damaged. My kids and I filled some sandbags today in preparation for the big storms that are expected this week and next week. If our street floods again, we're going to be ready!

Church Update

In our last update we shared about our recent move. For several weeks after we moved, the crowd was down on Sundays, and I'm not exactly sure why. After a few weeks of that, things picked back up and now we have been having very strong attendance on Sundays. We've seen several saved since our move, have had several visitors in attendance (some from the new neighbourhood), and have made good progress getting to know and establish relationships with people in the area. There are currently several people being witnessed to who are very close to trusting Christ as Savior. A couple specific names to pray for are See Hua (another young adult son in the family I've talked about in the last couple of updates) and Nang (a middle-aged man near the church who is listening to the Gospel with great interest). In addition to people getting saved, I've been especially encouraged recently by the growth of our church in two very important areas. First, I've recently seen a number of times when our people loved, served, and cared for one another as if they were a family. I'm talking about people watching other people's children, giving people rides to and from church, gathering together for meals, helping the elderly get to the doctor, and just displaying a great amount of love and concern for each other. The other area of growth I have seen lately is one I have prayed for for a long time, and that is the area of leaders emerging. One man in our church has preached several times recently and another man has expressed a desire to learn how to preach. I'm beginning to see glimmers of hope for men to lead the church in the future. I appreciate the many of you who have prayed for this request for quite some time now. Please continue to pray for our men to have a heart for God and a desire to serve God. Pray for them to maintain good testimonies even as Satan tries to get them off track. I believe with all of my heart there are 2 or 3 future pastors sitting in our church right now (maybe more).

"Pressing Forward" Conference

The biggest event in our church since our move was a leadership conference we attended in late mid-May. Bro. Rodney Ruppel organized the Pressing Forward Conference and it was a tremendous blessing to our church. The conference lasted 2 days and we heard preaching and practical sessions from a variety of pastors and missionaries, both foreigners and nationals. The preaching, teaching, music, singing, fellowship, and camaraderie were exactly what our church needed.

Political News

Cambodia will be having a big election on the last Sunday of July. The last big election 5 years ago was a time of great turmoil as the opposition party had gained a massive following among the people and quite nearly won the election. There were many protests and scary situations both prior to and following the election. This election is quite different. Everything is quiet and peaceful. The reason for that, in a nutshell, is that between the last election and this election, the ruling party cracked down on the opposition party, jailed many of the leaders, officially disbanded the party, and gave all the parliamentary seats they had won to other parties (who are too small to matter). Things are quiet and peaceful in Cambodia, but on the international front, the relationship between Cambodia and the U.S. and even other Western nations, is quite strained, due to the perceived corruption, human rights abuses, crackdowns on political parties, closing of media outlets, jailing of political dissidents, and other issues. I expect the election to take place peacefully, and we're thankful for that. We do ask for prayer, however, that the ever-increasing strain on the relationship between Cambodia and the U.S. will not adversely affect the spread of the Gospel here or the status of missionaries. Visas have definitely been affected in recent months (both the cost of them, and how easy they are to obtain). For now, we are fine, but we are constantly reminded that the welcome mat is tenuous here, especially for Americans.

Family News

We are currently making plans to get our second daughter, Deborah, to college this Fall. She will be attending West Coast Baptist College in Lancaster, CA where our first daughter, Candace, attends. I'll be taking Deborah in early August and spending a couple of weeks getting her settled and checking on Candace. Please pray for our trip to go smoothly and safely and for God to be especially comforting to our whole family during this difficult time of good-byes and separation. Also pray for Deborah as she adjusts to college life, life in America, and ministry in a very large church. Many of you will know exactly what I mean when I say that for someone who has been raised in a foreign country, attended a very small church, and been homeschooled her whole life, this is going to be a huge change for her. Please also pray for Candace as she begins her Sophomore year. She was able to get some extra work on the cleaning crew at Lancaster Baptist over the summer, so that has been good. Ministry-wise she has had a couple of good opportunities afforded to her recently. First, she was asked to play the piano for a church in Mojave, CA, on Sundays, which she is really enjoying. Second, she was asked to play the piano for the Soaring Eagle Baptist Camp, which is going on this week at Huntington Lake, CA. We're thankful for these extra opportunities that she has had to put her talent and training to good use for the Lord. One other bit of family news is that our third daughter, Emma, has started a blog about missionary life. So if you've ever wanted to get a peek in a Cambodian market, or ever wanted to know what kind of insects and rodents we have here, or ever been curious about what's going on in the mind of a missionary kid (MK), check out her new blog "Under The Mango Tree.

We want to say a huge thank you to each of you who financially support and/or faithfully pray for our ministry. I'm often reminded of Romans 10:15 which says, "how shall they preach except they be sent." The role of the senders is vital and we are grateful for each of you.

Nathan & Tina Fritz...Cape Verde

We praise the Lord for giving us a safe trip to Cape Verde. We arrived almost on schedule with most of our luggage...It was an adventure! Special thanks to our parents for getting us to the airport in Chicago, and to Pastor and Mrs. Reid in Brockton, MA, for helping us get from one end of the Boston airport to the other.

We have settled in to an apartment in Praia - the capital city. This is a temporary home for us (6-9 months) as we chase down some paperwork needed for residency. Our Portuguese tutor is keeping us busy with classes four days a week, and we have many opportunities to practice language every day. Pray for us to make quick progress with the language.

Language in Cape Verde seems to be a bit of a phenomenon with Portuguese as the official language...any paperwork or official business is conducted in Portuguese, but then Creole is spoken very often in the streets. The Creole is simple in construction, but is complicated by the fact that everyone speaks it a little differently...for now we are focusing on Portuguese, because that is necessary, and in the future we will most likely learn the Creole that is specific to the region we will be working in.

We have been privileged to visit two churches here in Praia as well as two others further inland. It has been a great blessing to us to get to know the believers here, even though we don't always communicate well. We are grateful for the fellowship we have in Christ, and the work that He is doing through the missionaries and locals.

Sometime in late June I will be traveling up to the northern islands with a fellow missionary to visit a few churches. I am especially eager to go since this is the area where we believe the Lord would have us serve once we are done in the capital city.

We have had a little difficulty dealing with all the dust here. with a lack of rain and the constant wind, the dust can cause some breathing issues with the children. Please pray that we can find good solutions to deal with this issue.

We thank you for your prayers, and for the many encouraging emails we have received over the past few months. We appreciate each of you. May God bless you as you serve Him!

Tom & Janice Crawford...Indonesia

The past few weeks have been busy weeks for us here in Jakarta. We have many things to share. Also, we do have some important prayer requests that we need you folks to bring before the Lord.

In mid-April, I decided to seek a new venue for the new work we are starting in South Jakarta. The main reason was the Indonesian service was not growing. During the first weeks of April, we did not have anyone other than my wife and I for the Indonesian services. Sadly, I decided it was time to look for a better venue for our church.

As one of my secondary aims in starting the new work was to ultimately help the Cipulir Baptist church expand their ministry, I first sought out a place near the Cipulir church. A new hotel had just opened in a small mall close by the Cipulir church, so I approached the hotel management about renting a meeting room for a religious service.

The hotel responded positively. I then approached Pastor Pri concerning the possibility of opening an Indonesian and English service at the hotel. Pastor Pri enthusiastically accepted the suggestion as an opportunity to expand the ministry of the Cipulir Baptist church. Using the negotiating skills of Brother Kus Dwi, a deacon in the Cipulir church, we soon had a one year contract on a meeting room in the hotel.

The new arrangement for Simply Jesus Baptist church was that the Cipulir Baptist church would move their services to the hotel each Sunday morning. In the evening Cipulir Baptist church would hold regular services in their own building.

The new services started the first Sunday of May with good results. We had good crowds out for both the Indonesian and English service in the morning, and in the evening service we had a man saved! Over the next two weeks the crowds grew with the Lord literally giving us people that were hungry for God's word. Most of the members of the Cipulir Baptist church were enthusiastically inviting new people.

The last week in May, the hotel management informed me that they needed a permission letter from the police for us to continue meeting in the hotel. The request was a bit strange as we had provided the hotel with letters proving the Cipulir church was a fully registered church. The hotel management was firm, without the letter we could not continue having services at the hotel.

The permission problem could not have come at a worse time. The fasting month was drawing to a close and the Indonesian government had declared a holiday for Idul Fitri from the 9th through the 20th of June. Moreover, Janice and I were headed to Batam for the Grace Baptist Schools graduation the first week of June. However, on the 8th of June, I headed off to the government offices in Jakarta to see what could be done.

My efforts to obtain the permission letter for the service in the hotel, quickly became a discovery situation that finally led me to an office in the South Jakarta government called the Form for Peaceful Agreement among Religious Groups (FKUB). The short version of a long story, it looked impossible but in the end I left believing God will work it out!

Here is where we are at now! We are having all services at the Cipulir church until we can get the letters we need! We ask you to help by praying the Lord will guide me as I transverse the government offices to get the proper letters, and the Lord will continue to grow both services over the next few weeks.

The last of April, I went to West Kalimantan (Borneo) to take part in the ordination of Pastor Serpulus. Pastor Serpulus graduated from our Bible school here in Jakarta. He has started several works in West Kalimantan. He has been a good soul winner and he has continued to serve the Lord through some difficult situations. His church in Tajam, West Kalimantan, called for his ordination while organizing their church. I accompanied Pastor Raso, Serpulus' sending pastor to take part in the ordination.

Janice and I traveled to Batam for the kindergarten graduation of Grace Baptist School. The school is a project of the Batam foundation that is run out of Grace Baptist Church. The graduation went well. It also appears that there will be a good number of families putting their children in our grade school that will start with grade one next year. The required school building is coming along. Please pray for the financial need for the building. Any help you could give financially would be greatly appreciated at this time.

West Coast Baptist College...Dr. Paul Chappell

We are still rejoicing at how the Lord blessed our Spiritual Leadership Conference just a few weeks ago! What a joy to see hundreds of pastors, missionaries, and Christian workers from around the world come together to worship God and be better equipped to serve Him. There was a real spirit of revival in the services, and we are praying that the work God began in hearts will continue across our churches and the world.

While our students are working jobs and serving in ministries over the summer, we are praying and preparing for our upcoming academic school year. Our summer ministry teams have seen new applications, and we are looking forward to welcoming many incoming students who desire to serve the Lord with their lives.

We would be honored to have a group from your church at West Coast Up Close, which is an opportunity for us to host juniors and seniors on our campus November 14-16. As you hear of young people who are interested in a local church, soulwinning Bible college, or who feel called to serve God, I hope you'll encourage them to consider West Coast. Bits and Pieces, Notes and News

Ladies Fellowship: Our Ladies Fellowship for this month is a Craft Day on Saturday, August 18th. We will be making an Indian Corn Pin. Perfect for Fall. I will have a sample available when you come to sign up. The cost will be $5, payable when you sign up. Since I have to put together the kits, it's vital that I know ahead of time how many will be attending.

TBC Man Camp: Our annual Man Camp is scheduled for August 2-4 at Lake Del Valle. There are a limited number of spaces available so sign up soon to reserve your spot.

Teen Camp Out: Teen Camp Out will be August 8-10. We will meet at the church at 1pm on Wednesday. We will do our Youth Group Bible Study at the camp site that evening. We will arrive back at the church on Friday afternoon. Pastor Thomas will coordinate with the parents as they drive back. Pray that it is a fun, encouraging and safe trip.

Farewell/Labor Day Picnic: Our annual Labor Day Picnic will be moved one week earlier to August 26th and will be a wonderful time for an official farewell to our rock solid and faithful Pastor and dear Ms. Karen of 19 years. Bring your usual picnic goodies, cameras, Bibles for Pastor to sign, and grateful memories to share with them as we say farewell to our loved Pastor and his wife. There will be no PM service nor will there be the next Sunday for Labor Day.

Pulpit Committee: According to our church constitution, the deacon board is to serve as the Pulpit Committee to select our new Pastor. Since we have only two deacons their job was to select men to fill the vacancies to serve on the committee. They have selected Charlie Cavett, Tom Ciaramitaro, Angel Juarez and Troy Moore to serve. Please be in much prayer for each of these men since their job is not only time consuming but vital. Also be in prayer for Pastor Thomas and Jessica as he will be our interim Pastor. Last, but definitely not least, pray for the man God has already appointed to be our new Pastor. Pray that he hears the call and responds. Pray that the committee is led to this man. Remember this is not a personality contest; it is a life changing decision for Tabernacle Baptist Church.

If you have any questions regarding our search for a pastor, please email tbcca.office@gmail.com or reach out directly to one of our six deacons: Rich King, Mike Hogendorn, Charlie Cavett, Tom Ciaramitaro, Troy Moore, or Angel Juarez.

Last Month's Answer: What Old Testament prophet bought a field while in prison? Jeremiah,

Mary Lou's Musings

By Mary Lou McCauley

Many of you have heard by now that my sister Lois has inexplicably lost her frontal vision in both eyes. She has been a trooper throughout this process, declaring that she is not blind (although legally she is) and that she can see enough to get by. Of course, this loss of vision means that she can no longer drive, read, text, walk on unfamiliar ground independently, or even check her own blood. To the rest of her family this has been a troubling situation, saddening all of us who know how much she adored teaching her young nephews how to read, teaching Sunday School each Sunday, and generally helping with the new ministry in Driggs, Idaho. Already she has elicited and received some excellent help from her friend Nancy, who reads for her and helps her prepare her Sunday School lessons so that she can continue some teaching.

What has shocked me the most about this situation is the attitude of some that this is her fault, and that if she had only "been more careful" it probably would not have happened! True, Lois has struggled with her diet, as have all the McCauleys and McDonalds, but then we all should have received this same result, true? Actually, this problem of Lois' was most likely a genetic dysfunction, since my grandmother McCauley also went blind as she aged.

I should not be perplexed by this attitude because Job, called a righteous man by God himself, received a similar response when he went through his struggles. His "friends," in total ignorance of God's plan and taking upon themselves the Pharisaical robes of the "truly righteous," claimed that Job had sinned, and that he was out of God's will. The only really wise thing they did was the week of silence that they observed at the beginning of Job's travail. Too bad, they did not continue to stay silent, but then we would not have the book of Job to learn from! I think, too, of the man born blind. What was the first question? What sin did he commit that this happened, or what sin did the parents commit. Jesus was quick to point out that this was done for the glory of God. Is it beyond the realm of possibility that my sister's sudden blindness is for the glory of God?

What, then, can we learn when someone we love goes through such a trial? First, God is sovereign; He plans a different path for each of us, and we, like Job's friends cannot pretend to know or speculate about why. We do not know the mind of God. We must accept what He has chosen to do even if it affects those we dearly love. We can also learn lessons, if we are willing, in patience and servitude. How can we be compassionate? What can we do to help without being intrusive? Is God going to teach us lessons that will require us to slow down, change our habits, and truly serve those around us that need help? To do less than that is not only selfish, but judgmental in the extreme. Will we continue in ignorance declaring that we know why this has happened, when, in truth, we don't have the foggiest notion what God is doing! We must never forget that "His ways are not our ways;" they are "past finding out." May God give us the same loving heart that our precious Lord Jesus had when He looked upon the multitudes and was moved with compassion! We cannot restore vision as He did, but we can care and serve!

Monthly Devotional

Heavenly possessions or Earthly possessions?

Read: Matthew 19:21–22

22: But when the young man heard that saying, he went away sorrowful: for he had great possessions:

In this account between Christ and a rich man, Christ tells the rich man to sell all his possessions. Christ tells him he would receive treasures in heaven. Unfortunately, the rich man could not do it. Even though Christ informed him he would have riches in heaven, the rich man went away sad because he could not do it. The bottom line is the riches of earth had a firm grip on the rich man. How do you fare as a follower of Christ? If Christ personally told you to sell all you had, could you and would you sell it all? Do the things in your ministry and your home have a firm grip on you? Does the home, plane, boat, car, or any inanimate object have a firm grip on you? Would you be able to sell it all? To the Christians who do have a healthy pocketbook, if Christ told you to sell it all, would you? Could you? In your heart, you know the true answer. You must be honest with yourself and not lie. It is possible to fool ourselves. It is a good question to drill ourselves with from time to time. When it comes to material things, we humans do get very, very, very weak. As a follower of Christ, we need to be in the forefront. We need to be able to let go of material wealth for the sake of Christ. We can be good examples to the sheepfold of God. This is something we all need to work toward, to break away from the material things of Satan's world. This is definitely an area where Satan many times traps us and keeps us as prisoners. Because of our weakness, this is the area where our faith in God either diminishes or just fades away. As a follower of Christ, we should not be afraid to confront our failures. Knowing our own weakness will help in overcoming them and having victory. This is not just for yourself, but for your immediate family and the family of God who you are leading. There will come a time when Christians will not be allowed to have wealth. We will be treated equal to dirt. There may come a time when material wealth will not be part of the Christian life in this world.

Goal: As a followers of Christ, we need to work on separating ourselves from earthly possessions. Do not be trapped in Satan's schemes, keeping us prisoners to his earthly possessions. Lead the family of God in the right path to God.

This month highlights three ministries. For those familiar with Joni Eareckson Tada, this year marks 50 years of Joni being in a wheel chair. At 17, she broke her neck, in a diving accident.

One of the ministries of Joni and Friends is Wheels for the World which distributes wheelchairs worldwide for children with disabilities. Along with a custom fitted wheel chair, the child receives a Bible in their language, and an opportunity to hear the Gospel message. The website is www.joniandfriends.org

The Christian Worship Hour (CWH) began in 1979 by Pastor Harold E. Salem. "The vision of the CWH is to offer a worship service to those who are housebound... The telecast was never meant to be substitute for worshipping in your own church." Their Mission Statement says "It seeks to win the lost to Christ, to minister to the lonely, the elderly, and the shut-ins, and to nurture the saved in their daily walk with the Lord."

Pastor Salem began at the First Baptist Church in Belle Fourche, SD in 1944; In 1958, he went to the First Baptist Church of Aberdeen, SD where he served 52 ½ years. He resigned in 2010 to give full time to the CWH. In addition to the televised ministry, CWH broadcasts worldwide via shortwave and AM Radio.

He writes this of his wife, Beulah, who was called home in 2005. "If I have attained any good in this life it is because of the help of Jesus Christ and my dear wife, Beulah, who stood by me, believed in me, encouraged me for 59 ½ years and without whose loving help I could not have run the race." The website is www.christianworshiphour.com

BibleRadioClass is taught by Pastor Jerry Musgrove. Called to preach in 1984, he pastored his first church in 1993 and also began the radio ministry. In 1994 he began Bible Believers Baptist Church. He promotes Dispensational Theology, as opposed to Reformed Theology; "though he holds many of the Protestant Reformers in high regard, but understands right division of scripture (2 Timothy 2:15) to be God's way of teaching the church."

Their Faith Statement includes believing the King James Bible is the perfect word of God, the local church should be independent...led by the Pastor as directed by the Holy Ghost according to the Word of God, rightly divided... and Jesus Christ is coming back for the church before Daniel's 70thWeek begins (Pre-Tribulation rapture.)
